

Q & A W/ ORWG/IG

PREPARED FOR THE ORWG CONFERENCE

9 APRIL 2022

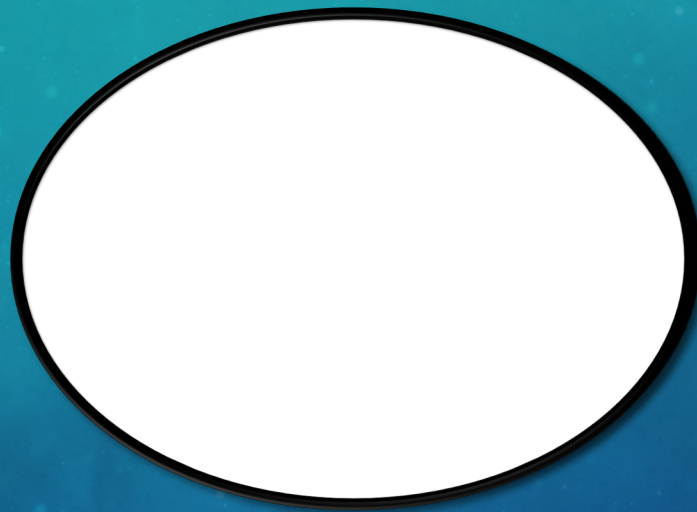

WELCOME

- Lt Col Edward A. Bos, CAP
- ORWG/IG
- 20 Years as a CAP Senior Member (in July)
- (541) 972-3449
- edward.bos@orwgcap.org
- Several areas with experience to share information on today...

TOPICS

Complaint Resolution	Inspections	Other Stuff
Online CAP Form 20	SUI Preparation	IG Specialty
National Processing	SUI Teams	NESA/Emergency Services
The CR Process	Failing/Re-Inspection	Recruiting
What is Fraud, Waste, or Abuse?	Checking Units not People	Special Events
What doesn't an IG handle?	Best Practices	CISM
		Health Services

SOME DETAILS

THE OREGON WING IG

The Oregon Wing Inspector General is responsible for conducting unit inspections, advising the wing commander, supporting the wing staff and unit leaders, and serving as a local complaint resolution subject matter expert.

116TH AIR CONTROL SQUADRON

Oregon Air National Guard's 116th Air Control Squadron (ACS), located at Camp Rilea, Warrenton, Oregon, is a deployable radar/communications unit with superior mobility and response to global and local missions.

PSYCHOLOGY

With an B.S. in Psychology from the University of Alaska Anchorage, and a M.A. from Pacific University, Ed Bos is currently a doctoral student working on a Doctor of Psychology degree, with an emphasis in Health Psychology and an interest in primary care.

HEALTH SERVICES/CISM

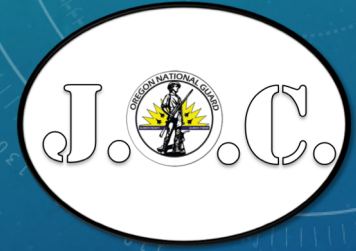

Service on the CAP Health Services team, and the CAP CISM program management team, including development of the Health Services Specialty Track (pending) and the shift away from ICISF training to a peer-supporter model.

210TH RESCUE SQUADRON

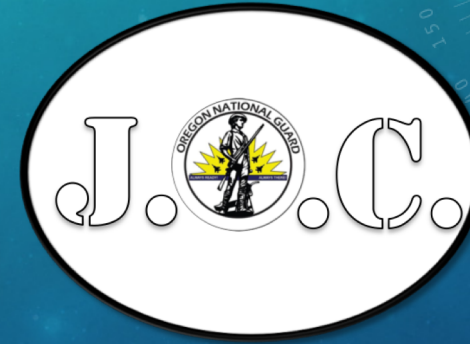

210th is a combat search and rescue squadron trained to locate and recover downed fighter pilots. The day-to day mission is to perform an 11th AF 24-hour Alaska Theater Search and Rescue Alert. The 210th is one of the busiest Air Force combat search and rescue squadrons in the world.

SENIOR DISTRICT EXECUTIVE

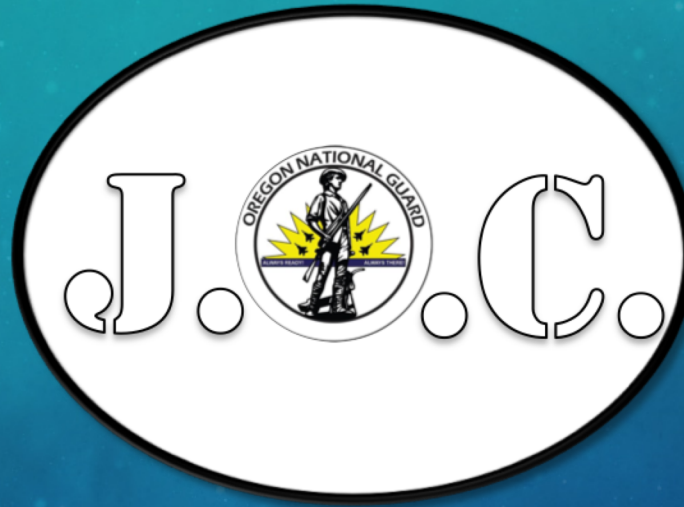

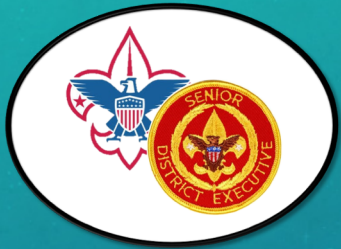

Scouting professionals are trained to promote youth development programs, provide expert support and oversight to volunteers, manage budgets and program delivery, as well as fundraising and recruiting for sustainability.

NHQ-007

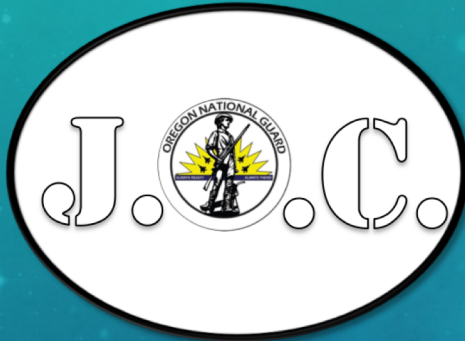

The National Emergency Services Academy is not just an activity. A portion of the cadre are assigned to the NESA Squadron, with their primary membership and attention going to development and delivery of Emergency Services curriculum.

OREGON JOC

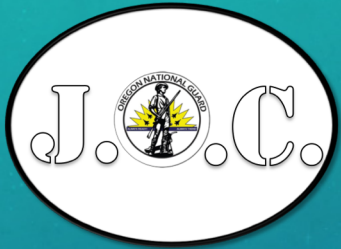

The Oregon Military Department maintains a 24-7 Joint Operations Center (JOC), with responsibilities for mission essential comms, info sharing, and maintaining situational awareness and a common operating picture for the department leadership.

US DEPT OF HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

Worked under the response operations officers for the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response. Supported the federal medical stations program, deliberate planning for special events, and the Secretary's Operations Center during hurricanes Hannah, Gustav, and Ike.

MA-044

Located on the Massachusetts Military Reservation, what was formerly the Cape Cod Composite Squadron was redesignated as Coastal Patrol 18, in honor of its WWII heritage.

102D AIRCRAFT MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

Before the 2006 realignment and change of missions, Otis Air National Guard Base was home to a squadron of F-15s, defending the Northeast Air Defense Sector.

ARC INSTRUCTOR

In order to teach First Aid, CPR and related courses, Bos & Associates was founded to serve as the corporate body to serve as a licensed training provider.

AK-073

The Mat-Su Minuteman Cadet Squadron served the communities of Palmer and Wasilla, Alaska from 2007 to 2016.

INLAND SAR PLANNING COURSE

The ISPC is a five day resident and exportable course designed to teach advanced search and rescue theory and its application to land and air searches for missing persons and aircraft. The target audience is SAR leaders in federal, state, and local emergency services and law enforcement.

ALASKA COMMUNITY SHARE

Alaska Community Share was a member of Community Shares USA. This represented a federation of nonprofits, primarily focused on social justice; similar to the United Way and its focus on human services.

NATIONAL STAFF

The Chief Operating Officer coordinates with volunteer leadership and the National Commander, or his designee, and appoints volunteer National Staff who normally function under their appointed director.

VOLUNTEER UNIVERSITY

Volunteer University Instructors are approved and trained by the Volunteer University faculty to teach the five levels of the Education and Training Program.

